Game Overview

Dinos are everywhere! In this frantic and fast game, you need to be the first person to play all your cards.

Game Setup

Shuffle and deal all the cards to the players, except the last card, which is placed in the middle. If it shows a meteorite, flip it over. Once all cards have been dealt, players race to play their cards – you all play at once; there's no taking turns!

Game Play

Each card shows one of three different dinosaurs in one of three different colors. Each dinosaur is associated with a different location; either Land (T-Rex), Sea (Plesiosaur), or Sky (Pteranodon).

The aim is to match a dinosaur on one of your cards with the location on the discard pile. To make things harder, the dinosaur must be of a different color to the previous one.

For instance, if the top card of the discard pile shows a yellow T-Rex and the Sea, you could only play a red or blue Plesiosaur.

If, when playing a dinosaur card, the opposite picture on the card is a Meteorite, then the player who played the card gives one card from their hand to each other player. The Meteorite card is then flipped over and play continues as before.

If you think you don't have a card to play don't forget to look at both sides of your cards.

Winning the Game

The winner is the player who plays their last card. Record the winner on the score pad. If no players are able to place a suitable card, the game also ends, at which point players count their cards and the player with the fewest cards wins.
